

What does the Bible say about LGBTQI+ issues?

Led by Jayme R. Reaves

This workshop seeks to introduce participants to the issues faced by LGBTQI+ individuals in the context of faith, sensitively exploring the Biblical texts commonly referred to as 'lobber passages', and seeking new ways to understand the texts and the context in which they were written. This workshop takes the Bible seriously as an important text in the life of believers, and offers tools on how to read and understand the Bible with both integrity and inclusivity.

Saturday 1 February

9.00am for 9.30am - 4pm

Refreshments and lunch provided. There is no charge for attendance but registration is essential.

To register or for further information:

inclusionforall@cliftondiocese.com

0117 909 0419

St Nicholas of Tolentino Church,
Lawfords Gate, Bristol BS5 0RE

